LEWISBURG LITERARY FESTIVAL RETURNS AUGUST 4-5

The Lewisburg Literary Festival will once again take place the first weekend in August. The 2023 festival will feature Lynda Rutledge, author of the bestselling novel West With Giraffes, which has been a popular book club selection and translated into 15 languages. Other speakers include Kentucky novelist and NPR commentator Silas House, Pulitzer Prize winning investigative journalist Eric Eyre, and author Joy Callaway, whose novel The Grand Design is based on Dorothy Draper's celebrated work as interior designer at The Greenbrier. Ms. Callaway will be in conversation with Dr. Robert Conte, the resort's longtime historian.

Since 2012 the festival has been celebrating literature and promoting reading in the Greenbrier Valley by featuring best-selling authors speaking about their works, offering writing workshops, providing booksellers with a venue and presenting ancillary events ranging from movies and plays to hands-on activities for adults and children. All events are free to the public, with costs underwritten by grants from local family foundations and the City of Lewisburg, and sponsorships from businesses and individuals.

FROM THE EDITOR

Dear Readers,

What a packed August we have in the Greenbrier Valley this year! Not only is the State Fair returning for nine jam-packed days of family fun, but the Lewisburg Literary Festival returns as well on Aug. 4 and 5, which means it's time for the annual Greenbrier County Public Library Book Sale. (If you're like me and end up with 4 bags of books, their deals can't be beat!)

This month also comes with the exciting news that Greenbrier Valley Brewing Company will be having a resurgence under new (local!) ownership: Hawk Knob Appalachian Cider and Mead. We speak with Josh, the owner and founder of Hawk Knob, in this edition for all the details.

We also took a short trip up to the northern parts of our beautiful county with visits to Frankford, Renick, Rorer, Anthony, and beyond. With blueberry picking offered from several farms, the best pepperoni rolls you'll ever have at Good Roads Bakehouse, an updated Greenbrier River access point and boat launch, hand-scooped ice cream at Bones and Cones, and more, northern Greenbrier remains an uncrowded gem that's well worth the trip!

*Your Editor,

LEWISBURG LITERARY FESTIVAL

“We wondered if we should have the literary festival on our traditional weekend this year since it coincides with the LIV golf tournament at The Greenbrier,” says Josh Baldwin, the festival’s board president. “We ultimately decided to go ahead with it because the events draw different crowds.”

Joy Callaway’s presentation will take place at Greenbrier Valley Theatre on Friday, Aug. 4, at 7 p.m. Saturday’s schedule at Carnegie Hall features Eric Eyre in conversation with Lewisburg attorney Derek Teaney at 1 p.m., Silas House in conversation with local writer Eric Fritzius at 3 p.m., and Lynda Rutledge in conversation with A New Chapter bookstore co-owner Shaye Gadomski at 7 p.m.

The four events are ticketed, with free tickets available at the Greenbrier County Convention and Visitors Center. “It’s particularly important to get tickets for the Callaway/Conte event,” Literary Festival program director Greg Johnson points out. “GVT has more limited seating than Carnegie Hall, and only 140 tickets are available.”

“We’re immensely grateful to the donors whose generosity enables us to have a literary festival,” Josh Baldwin adds. “When we started in 2012, we didn’t know if we were having a one-time celebration or if the festival would become an annual event. It’s obviously something the community values, or we wouldn’t still be here eleven years later.”

Other Literary Festival events include the following FREE workshops, all held at the Greenbrier County CVB:

–“Okay, I Wrote it... Now What?” Craft of Writing Workshop with Tim Huguenin on August 4 at 6 p.m.

–“Wandering Outside of Your Fences” Poetry Workshop with Cheryl Denise on August 5 at 9:30 a.m.

–“Understanding Story” Fiction Writing Workshop with Sheila Redling and Tobi Doyle on August 5 at 11 a.m.

These three events are free and open to the public, but attendees must register beforehand. Register online at www.lewisburgliteraryfestival.com, or directly here: <http://bit.ly/3rAq4s6>.

Previous speakers at the Lewisburg Literary Festival have included Doonesbury creator Garry Trudeau, humorist David Sedaris, basketball legend Jerry West, poet Nikki Giovanni, podcaster Anna Sale, and bestselling authors Jeannette Walls, Homer Hickam, Sara Gruen, Kathryn Stockett, Garth Stein and Tobias Wolf.

Greenbrier County Public Library Book Sale Upcoming

The popular book sale will coincide with the Lewisburg Literary Festival

The annual Greenbrier County Public Library Book Sale will take place on Friday and Saturday, August 4 and 5, in the community room in the basement of the library.

The sale will feature more 15,000 books, according to Library Director Ann Farr. Adult fiction and nonfiction, children’s fiction, and audio/visual materials are featured in the sale. A plus for book lovers is that the sale coincides with the Lewisburg Literary Festival taking place downtown that same weekend.

The sale opens at 152 Robert W. McCormick Drive in downtown Lewisburg at noon Friday, Aug. 4, and runs until 6 p.m. On Saturday, Aug. 5, the sale starts at 9 a.m. and closes at 2 p.m. On Friday, books will be priced at $2 for hardcovers and $1 for paperbacks. Saturday shoppers can buy books for $5 a bag (The bags are supplied by the library.) The book sale accepts credit cards and checks, as well as cash.

Shoppers are advised there is no elevator service from the first floor to the book sale in the library’s basement.

This annual fundraiser is sponsored by The Friends of the Greenbrier County Public Library. The group started in 1979 as an organization dedicated to promoting awareness of services provided by public libraries. Proceeds from the sale support library activities, services and programs.

More information is available by calling the library at 304-647-7568.

WILLIAMSBURG BACK HOME FESTIVAL SET FOR SEPT. 2

THIS ANNUAL FUNDRAISING EVENT

SUPPORTS THE WILLIAMSBURG VFD

Back in 2019 the Williamsburg Volunteer Fire Department decided to start a festival as a fundraiser to help update their outdated equipment, and to purchase needed new equipment. Our department is like most departments in the state and runs off of volunteerism, state funding, donations from the community, fundraisers, and grants (which are hard to get due to the location and population of our area). When Covid hit, we were forced to reconsider the festival and decided to not have one due to everyone's safety.

Last year our festival was enjoyed by many, and this year we are planning for a bigger festival and more participants coming to enjoy the outdoors under the stars. This year's festival is called Williamsburg's Back Home Festival, and runs all day from 1 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday, September 2.

The day will be filled with a variety of live music, including Ben Hersman and Sons of the Mountains. Ben and his band are a well-known group in these parts and are from Greenbrier County. They grew up on the music of the Appalachians and perform cover songs and their own originals. You'll hear them playing "Rocky Top" and "Old Time Rock and Roll" in the same set. The band's name was inspired by one of West Virginia's first military units that made a name for themselves at Gettysburg and in other Civil War Battles: the 7th West Virginia Infantry. Thus came the same "The Sons of the Mountains."

Alleghany Countdown from Bluefield, VA led by Virgil Harden, will also be playing. Virgil has been involved in the music industry for most of his life and loves entertaining people and watching the enjoyment that music brings to the heart. Alleghany Countdown plays bluegrass and has played for the festival several times with some great sounds. They have thought about retiring, but realized just how much they loved providing music for the people that come to hear them. Virgil is such a talented musician and holds this group together with the great pride in their music.

A HISTORY OF THE WILLIAMSBURG VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Williamsburg Fire Department started by the community of Williamsburg with a 1946 Chevrolet chassis fire truck that was purchased from Danville, VA Fire dept. for $1,100. It would carry 300 gallons of water and pump 500 gallons a minute.

Fire Department members at that time included Fire Chief Jim Thomas, Assistant Chief Charlie Bransford, Captain Rondell Fletcher, Sec't/Treasurer Charlie Simmons, and President Ben Gee, as well as Buck Withrow, Lawrence Owens, Harry Hume, Alvin Sykes, Berlin Judy, Darrell Judy, Elmer Hedrick Jr., Rupert Spencer, Glen Simmons, Ira Simmons, Duke Johnson, John Viers, and Charles Harrah. All these young men attended fire school at Lewisburg every Thursday night. The fire truck was kept in readiness at the warehouse behind the Dwight Miller store. If there was a fire, calls would be placed to Harry Hume or Charlie Bransford, and if there was no answer they would call Owens

Mill. Numbers were published for each.

In 1972, Howard Schoonmaker, a retired fireman from Patterson, NJ, moved into the area and rejuvenated the department with his skills and expert knowledge and leadership. The department has gone through some tough times, ups and downs over the many years they have been in business.

We are now 17 members strong with the firefighters and auxiliary member, three fire trucks and a brush truck, radios for communications, and a nice fire house to store our equipment that also has a kitchen and a bedroom. We still do whatever it takes to help our community in whatever way we can.

The Thomas Taylor Band

The Thomas Taylor Band is led by Thomas and has an amazing traditional country and western swing music sound. His songs are heard throughout the state, and they are a great dance band with music we can sing along with that we know and love. Band members include lead vocals/guitar- Thomas Taylor, pedal drum/steel guitar- Don Drummer, drums- Butch White, fiddle- Jerry Wood, piano- Bill Clapham, lead guitar/sax- Alan Copenhaver, and bass- Marty Wells.

Greener Pastures debuted in Ronceverte, WV at the Food Truck Festival, showcasing the vocal talents of David Lynch and Kimberly Dawn, keyboardist Virgil Kris Kelly, Jason Cooper on bass, Tom France on drums, and Andei Kharasov on guitar. They are a brand-new band playing a variety of songs including blues, soul, rock, pop, and funk, with cover songs we all know and love. A resident of Williamsburg, Virgil was the mastermind with the leadership of getting this great group of musicians together to form this band.

This year the Williamsburg's Back Home Festival will offer the Tahoe and DARE of Lewisburg Groups for an awesome evening of vehicles on display for all to enjoy. These groups have many wonderful members and sharp-lookin' vehicles.

An array of vendors including jewelry, Tupperware, tie-dye clothing, a demo on spinning wool into yarn by Linda Wells, ukulele played by the gifted Gabby Garnant, fire dancer Ahlee Dee, redneck horseshoes, and a rock climbing wall compliments of the Army National Guard. A gun raffle will be drawn the day of the festival. There will also be a live food auction with a variety of foods that have been baked, cooked, or canned by local men and women. Whoever makes the highest bid on the food items wins the prize!

There are available camp sites without hookups for $20, and plenty of stars overhead to enjoy. So come bring your chair or pop-up and stay a while. Some canopies will be set up on site.

Food onsite includes grilled fresh chicken, homemade potato salad and baked beans, and homemade slaw, Dip-pin' Dots ice cream, cotton candy, and grilled hotdogs with all the fixings.

This is a major fundraiser for the Williamsburg Volunteer Fire Department and all proceeds go to the department. The Festival is held behind the Williamsburg Fire Department 6571 Shoestring Trail Williamsburg, WV.

For more information contact the department at williamsburgvfd@hotmail.com or Shirley Winfrey at 304-667-8041 or Bill Zumpfe at 305-733-6639. Hope to see you there on September 2 for a fun filled evening.

HAWK KNOB CIDERY ACQUIRES GREENBRIER VALLEY BREWING COMPANY

By Sarah Richardson

Hawk Knob Appalachian Hard Cider & Mead shared an exciting update last month with the news that there will be a "resurgence of Greenbrier Valley Brewing." Josh Bennett, owner and founder of Hawk Knob, said that the cidery has acquired GVBC, and that they will be bringing back the four most popular GVBC beers as soon as they possibly can.

Devil Anse (IPA), Wild Trail (pale ale), Mothman (black IPA), and Braxxie (blonde ale) are all planned to return to market, with Josh saying in late July he hopes it will be as little as 6 weeks before consumers can once again find GVBC products for purchase.

"After the first four we plan to brew some other stuff on the small batch system," said Bennett. "And as soon as we have beer to serve, the taproom will be open."

When HashtagWV asked Josh about a potential return of the beloved Batboy (black lager), Josh promised, "It will be back," and hinted that he has some exciting plans in the works in that department.

Bennett explained that they hope to get a tavern license for the GVBC taproom so guests can also purchase Hawk Knob Cider products and a selection of guest taps. With a tavern license, they also plan to also serve some assorted foods.

Visitors can also expect to see familiar faces, as a majority of the old GVBC crew has stayed on deck for this new adventure!

"I'm really excited for the opportunity to bring these beers back into West Virginia," said Bennett, "and we look forward to being also to serve everyone in the tap room again."

In another exciting development, Josh announced that Hawk Knob plans to start offering cans of some of their newer ciders that have previously only been available via kegs. Salty Beach, Cellar Door, and Bloody Session will all have cans available for purchase here soon.

Hawk Knob is located at 2245 Blue Sulphur Pike in Lewisburg, and the GVBC taproom is located at 862 Industrial Park Road in Maxwelton. Hawk Knob currently offers tours and tastings at their location, and a variety of styles of locally grown artisanal hard cider and seasonal meads. Check out our agenda section for a variety of musical performances coming up at the cidery this month!

The Classic Steel Magnolias Prepares for its GVT Debut

By Josh Lapping

Many will know Robert Harling's classic Steel Magnolias because of the film starring Dolly Parton, Sally Field, and Julia Roberts. What you may not know is that the film, released in 1989, is actually an adaptation of Harling's play that came out two years earlier. Written to honor his late sister, Steel Magnolias explores the day-to-day life of six women as they spend their time talking and laughing while getting their hair styled.

The production of this popular title will open at GVT in September with some familiar faces. Erin Jerzal (I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change) will lead the cast as salon owner, Truvy. Wendy Clarendon, Amy Loui, (Silent Sky) Emily Bosco, (Pride and Prejudice) Kelsey Hofe, and mainstay Cathey Sawyer will complete the group of women who will prove that relationships can be as strong as steel.

Dana Iannuzzi (Murder For Two) returns to Greenbrier Valley Theatre to direct the production. Iannuzzi believes that art is not only about creating a dramatic point, but also about showing life as it actually is. She believes this is the beauty that comes with Harling's writing, and is looking forward to capturing those moments on stage.

"Far too often we get caught up in the extraordinary days and neglect the small moments that encapsulate who we are as people," said Iannuzzi. "Love. Friendship. Grief. Happiness. Life. Sadness. This is what it is to be human."

The production will feature scenic design completed by Frank Ludwig, costume design by Jenna Fawn Brown, and lighting design by E. Tony Lathroum. Sound design is completed by Abigail Coppock, with prop design by Ashton Webb. Richard Crowell serves as Production Manager, Elizabeth Salisch as Production Stage Manager, who will be assisted by Mallory Topel.

Now in its 56th season, Greenbrier Valley Theatre is a mainstay and theatre destination located in Lewisburg. The arts organization has been further recognized as a "West Virginia Jewel of the Hills," awarded the Living the Dream Service Organization Honor Roll by The Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday Commission, and is a multi-year recipient of Non-Profit Business of the Year. GVT boasts a robust series of year-round programming and educational offers with the goal to enlighten, enrich, and enliven throughout the region.

Steel Magnolias opens at GVT on September 1st and runs through the 9th. Tickets are $32 for general seating, $29 for senior citizens age 60 and above, and $20 for students. For more information on tickets, shows, and the organization's history, visit the theatre's website: www.gvtheatre.org or call the box office at 304-645-3838.

HOW TO SPEND A DAY UP

FRANKFORD, RENICK, RORER, and ANTHONY are JUST a FEW OF THE
NOT-AS-KNOWN
STOPS THAT ARE WORTH THE TRIP!

By Sarah Richardson

This month we spent some time up in the picturesque northern part of Greenbrier County located up 219, sampling just a small selection of all the things to do outside of the hubbub of the main city limits. Some people might consider this part of the county as an area to just drive-through on the way on to bigger and better things further north, like Snowshoe, but that's not the case!

When you head north of Lewisburg on 219, it's a beautiful drive with stunning valley views on both sides once you pass Maxwelton. It's really a small teaser of all the fun to be had in this slower-paced corner of the world. I recommend taking summer day trips on a Saturday, as not all businesses are open every weekend!

BLUEBERRY PICKING:

We toured several of the lovely blueberry farms and spent hours out in the serene blueberry fields picking away. There's something special about blueberry picking, that not only comes from the hunt for the ripest, juiciest berries (and there are a lot!) but something about simply wandering around with friends and family in the tranquil countryside with nothing but each others' company. Blueberry picking is a unique opportunity to be outside with all ages, young and all, engaged in the same pickin' mission and just enjoying the moment.

White Oak Berry Farm, Renick

White Oak Farm is owned and operated by Max and Anne Robinson, and they planted the first blueberries on their farm in the fall of 1993. The pick-your-own blueberries have been a popular staple in the Renick area for years, but in addition to growing blueberries they raise and grow a lot of their own food with some extras to sell. They have a milk cow, beef cows, sheep, and chickens. Eggs are available for purchase at the check-in stand.

Hours: Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 4 to 8 p.m. Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Closed Wednesday and Sunday.

Directions: In Renick, turn onto Brownstown Road, drive 1.5 miles, White Oak Farm will be on the right with a sign. Address: 1700 Brownstown Road, Renick.

Contact White Oak Farm at whiteoakberryfarm@gmail.com, call 304-497-3577, or visit White Oak Berry Farm on Facebook.

Friendly Goat Fruit Farm, Renick

Friendly Goat Fruit Farm is owned by Herb and Rene Ley and is aptly named for their friendly goats that they raise on the property. They offer pick-your-own blueberries and also blackberries later on in the season. They have other goods for sale, like maple syrup and jams, at their tent. Herb says that they planted their first blueberries six years ago, and that they have four varieties of berries.

"I say we have a rule about eating blueberries in the field- 'As many as you like!'"

He states his farm is about fun, family,

Friendly Goat
Fruit Farm

and being good Christians, and is a passion project for his family. With peak blueberry season ending in early August, it's best to come out before it's too late in the season.

Hours: Monday through Saturday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day. Closed Sundays.

Directions: In Renick, turn onto Brownstown Road and drive approximately 7 miles (follow signs), Friendly Goat Fruit

OTHER ACTIVITIES:

After blueberry picking, there are plenty of ways to cool off in the countryside. Consider a shady, leisurely walk on the non-as-crowded section of the Greenbrier River Trail at Anthony, or one of the many swimmin' holes along the way. With a newly-graveled boat launch right off of Anthony Road, it also makes a great spot for fishing!

Greenbrier River Boat Launch at Anthony

The Anthony boat launch is arguably one of the easiest ways to get in the water if you have a large group of people wanting to float or spend a day swimming. With a parking lot and boat launch ramp that have been recently redone, there is easy, ample parking just steps away from a lovely rocky beach area. This makes it easy to set up multiple chairs for a group, but I wouldn't recommend laying out just towels due to the rocks. You get an awesome view of the bridge over the river from this spot as well!

Greenbrier River Trail: Anthony Section/Droop Mountain Tunnel

The Greenbrier River Trail is just adjacent to the Anthony boat launch if you'd rather stroll north and dip off on one of the many, smaller water accesses there. Park at the Anthony lot and walk north less than 10 minutes to access a set of steps leading down to a great rock with a 2-4 foot deep swimming hole. One of the most impressive features of the entire trail lies further north: The Droop Mountain Tunnel. Drive up 219 until you hit Brownstown Road at Renick, and drive 5.4 miles on Brownstown before turning right onto Rorer Road. Drive past the posted Greenbrier River Trail parking area for a total of roughly 1.4 miles (you're be driving with the trail to your left). There are two parking spots titled "Rorer Trailhead Parking" on Google Maps, and walk 5 minutes north to get to the Droop Mountain Tunnel.

Boat launch @ Anthony

Frankford and drive a little over 8 miles to get to the parking area (just off of Anthony).

FOOD AND DRINKS:

Good Roads Bakehouse, Frankford

Truly a diamond in the rough, Good Roads Bakehouse is located in the old space of Lowell's Bakery and has quickly grown in popularity since their opening in 2021. A small batch bakery, they offer a selection of foods each week including pizza, quiche, homemade pop tarts, pepperoni rolls (you simply MUST try one), sourdoughs, cookies of all sorts, pretzels, and more. It varies each week, so many sure to follow them on Facebook at "Good Roads Bakehouse" for more details on their weekly offerings!

Address: 131 Lewis Lane, Frankford.

Hours: Friday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Bones and Cones, Frankford

Hand-scooped ice cream is always a treat, but it's even better when there are 30+ flavors to choose from, and EVEN better when your dog can come along

Blue Bend Swimming Hole

If it's an especially hot day and you need the coldest swim in the county, you want to go to Blue Bend. With bright blue water and easy access, this spot is a local favorite. The Blue Bend Campground is an affordable camping option to those from both near and far, and the recreation area is hard to beat. Turn onto Anthony Road at

They have also partnered with Good Roads Bakehouse to offer an AWESOME brownie sundae!

Dave's Hot Dogs, Renick

An unconventional stop that you don't want to miss is Dave's Hot Dogs. Set up in front of the old Renick Junior High, you can tell he's open for business by his "$1 Hot Dog" signs set up along the roadside through Renick. Dave reports that he is approaching his 20th year in the hot dog business, and that he's been set up in the same spot in front of the old high school since 2013. When asked why he got into the hotdog business, Dave said, "Madness, I guess. I was looking for an occupation, not a job. I wanted to take the tool belt off, in other words." A man of many talents, Dave has also worked as a dock builder, clam diver, and all number of other things. He acquired his New York City street cart in Miami, and bought it originally because he likes hot dogs. After setting it up once for a party, which went well, he's been doing it ever since.

You can get his $1 hot dog (ketchup and mustard only) or anything else your heart desires including chili, slaw, onions, and all the usual fixin's at great prices. One regular said he stops in usually once a week, and has for years.

Hours: Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (Look for the signs)

Mountain Table, Renick

Renick's newest business, Mountain Table is set up in the old location of the Blue and Grey Pub/Spring Creek Station right along 219. After starting out as pop-up kitchens at Greenbrier Valley Brewing Company, Mountain Table now has their own brick-and-mortar location to help them with their focus of providing fresh, local, organic food to the community. They are also a coffee roaster and sell their own special selections at retailers around the county.

Address: 24140 Seneca Trail North, Renick

Hours: Check their Facebook for full hours and special events at "Mountain Table," or their website: mountaintablewv.com.

COUNTDOWN TO SCARY SEASON BEGINS!

MILLER'S NIGHTMARE HAUNTED FARM BRINGS TWO NEW ESCAPE ROOMS, MERCH

By Matt Young

ATENTION! Halloween is less than 100 days away! Repeat, Halloween is less than 100 days away! And what's more - if you're reading this, then that means Miller's Nightmare Haunted Farm will be opening their gates to screaming thrill-seekers next month!

That's right folks, the witching hour will soon be upon us - opening night at the farm is Friday, September 29. And what delightful new terrors have the horror masters at Miller's cooked up this year? Well for starters, how about... a larger food service building?

"We're expanding our food building - last year the lines were getting really long, so we're trying to make our food production faster and more efficient," Berkley Miller, the farm's head ghost-wrangler, told HashtagWV. "We're also adding two escape rooms. We built a whole new building for them, and we built a new costume/make-up room."

While Miller's Haunted Farm already features world-class make-up effects and Hollywood-caliber costumes, the new costume and make-up rooms will only serve to enhance the scares.

The first of the two new escape rooms, "The Chair," promises to deliver a shockingly good time.

"One of your friends gets strapped into our electric chair," Miller said. "Then you have to solve the puzzle before your friend gets zapped. If you don't solve it, then your friend gets electrocuted... figuratively."

The second escape room, affectionately referred to as "The Death Box," is a team-based game which pits players against one another.

Another exciting addition for 2023 will be the Miller's Nightmare merchandise shop.

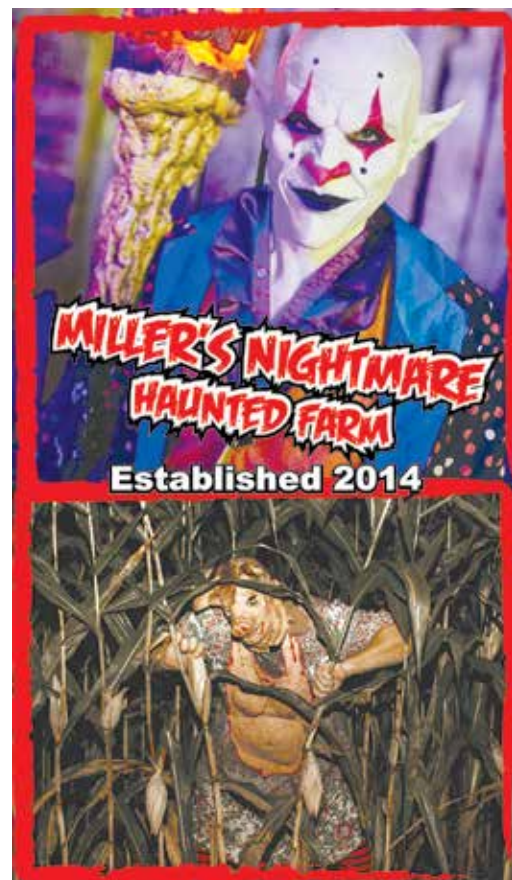

"I think we decided on the name 'Miller's Miscellaneous Monstrosities,'" Miller said. "We'll have all sorts of Halloween memorabilia, shirts, sweatshirts, toboggans, beanies - it'll be all Halloween-related stuff."

The interior of Miller's Manor has also been redesigned for the 2023 haunt season. The new walk-through and props are sure to provide brave guests with the kind of terrifying experience they've come to expect from the farm.

Ticket prices remain $20 per person, and $40 for a "Fast Pass." Game passes will also be available for $20. Children under five are admitted at no charge.

For more information, including ticket options, scheduling, and directions to the farm - or for those brave creatures of the night who feel they have what it takes to join the Miller team - visit millersnightmare.com.
